

NEW LAWS.

Frankford, Ky., June 15—(Special).—All acts passed by the Legislature at its last session become laws at midnight to night so far as they do not conflict with constitutional provisions. The first of the new laws to cause trouble is that doing away with special judges and requiring the regular circuit judges to act where a judge is ill or disqualified. Gov. Willson is required, under the new law, to designate a regular judge who shall act in the place of the disqualified official. To find regular judges who are not holding court at the time a vacancy occurs is what is puzzling the Governor.

Another law which is causing complications is the act requiring eight hours to be a day's work on all State work, whether done by contractor or subcontractor. Another law that is effective after today is that taking from a jury the power of fixing the punishment for any crime. The jury simply finds guilty and the judge sentences for a period fixed by law, defining the minimum and maximum sentence. The prison reform bills are also effective, but they cannot be carried into effect for some time yet, as the transfer of the prisoners from the penitentiary here to Eddyville will have to proceed gradually.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION
FOR COMMUTATION OF IMPRISONMENT.

J. C. Madden, who was convicted of petit larceny in the Madison Circuit Court of Madison county, Kentucky, at the May Term, 1910 of said Court, will ask the Governor for commutation of his punishment to thirty days, and all who object will notify the Governor and state in writing any objections.

KEPT THE KING AT HOME.

"For the past year we have kept the King of all laxatives—Dr. King's New Life Pills—in our home and they have proved a blessing to all our family," write Paul Mathulka, of Buffalo, N. Y. Easy but sure remedy for all Stomach Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 25c at Chas. C. Davis' Leading Druggist.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

Griffin is visiting relatives at Pine Hill.—Mrs. Pearl Daniels, of Rowland, is visiting Mrs. Ed Woodall.—On last Saturday Miss Alice Burton told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burton, that she wanted to go to Conway and they thought she had gone there, but instead she met Mr. W. H. Griffin on the train and they went to Cincinnati and were married. Uncle Henry you are hard to fool but Miss Alice sure got one on you that time.—Mrs. Joseph Mink, of Paris, was here between trains Tuesday.

On last Saturday night about 10:30, when the little town of Livingston was wrapped in sleep two shots rang out and an 18-year old boy fell mortally wounded, with a bullet in his head from which he died in a few hours. From what we can gather, Bill Madden and three other boys from Pine Hill came here Saturday to attend a show that was to be in town, and a lot of boys tried to run them out of town and they did not wish to run, so George Mullins sent a ball into Bill Madden's head and the poor boy breathed his last in a few hours. Deputy Sheriff Cam Mullins and Deputy Marshall Lee Johnson arrested George and Ed Mullins Lon Chuning, Fred Elkins and the three boys from Pine Hill and took them to Mt. Vernon and lodged them in jail, except Chuning and Elkins who were placed under guard. They had their examining trial Tuesday before Judge Bethune. Chuning and Elkins and the Pine Hill boys were released while Ed and George Mullins were held to the grand jury without bail, charged with wilful murder. We look on the first murder that ever was committed with horror, Cain killed his brother Able and set an example of murder to the world. Walden and Jackson killed Pearl Bryan and when they met their fate the world was satisfied. Just a short time back in the city of Louisville a red handed murderer with a character blacker than the inside walls of Hell, murdered little Alma Kellner. But now there is a stain of blood on the fair name of Livingston which time can never erase. The good citizens of this town have placed the stamp of disapproval on this action and want justice done. While we sympathize with the parents of the accused, yet the law of the land and a commandment has been broken. We do not believe this murder has a parallel in the annals of history.—Some few days ago a blind man as we thought at first, but since have concluded that he could see and a girl whom he claimed as his wife stopped off here and were having a daily time picking the banjo and singing. There was a disturbance raised and they were arrested and taken to Mt. Vernon on the charge of not being man and wife and they were given three days to dig up the necessary papers to establish the fact, but they went like Wards ducks and have not been heard of since. It looks like we are having more than our share of trouble but there never is a cloud so dark but what there is a sunny side somewhere and the good people intend to redeem Livingston or perish in the attempt.

OHIO VALLEY EXPOSITION.

EPICURES WILL TRY COTTON SEED FLOUR.

Cincinnati, June 14, 1910.—An order has been sent by the management of the Ohio Valley Exposition to a milling company of Jonesboro Ark., for samples of cotton seed flour and for examples of the culinary results of the use of this novel and recently discovered meal. It is the object of the Exposition management to secure, if possible, a complete exhibition of the cotton seed flour industry, this being along the lines of the objects of the Exposition of showing the public the latest and best products of factory, field and farm, and of presenting these products in a most attractive manner. According to reports from the South, the cotton seed flour industry promises to become a most important one. Texas was the first state to become interested in this novel substitute for wheat flour, and sent samples of it, together with various kinds of cake and pastry made of it, to the Texas Congressmen at Washington, where the new article of food received the highest prize from epicures. Since then much experimenting has been done with the meal, and the conclusion reached that the best results are reached by mixing it with about fifty per cent of ordinary flour, thereby reducing the unusual richness with which the meal is imbued. Its nutritious value is far above that of the best winter patent wheat flour, and it is said to lend itself particularly well to cakes of all kinds. One of the rare delicacies now being made of the cotton seed meal is an improved kind of ginger snap that is said to find ready sale in the cities where this new flour is being used. It is expected that a supply of ginger snaps will be shipped to Cincinnati for distribution among experts on flour at the same time that the samples asked for are sent.

Because of the political wrangle between Congressman D. C. Edwards and Caleb Powers over who shall be the Republican nominee in the Eleventh district this coming fall, close students of politics in that rock-ribbed Republican stronghold are predicting the election of a Democrat to Congress in November. And these predictions are coming direct from the Republican leaders who have so far been unable to bring about peace between the factions, according to a statement made by a Republican of the district. It is generally conceded, according to this informant that no matter which of the candidates received the Republican nomination, the defeated one will run on an independent ticket at the November election.

The entrance of Powers into the race for the nomination has resulted in the greatest split in the rank and file of the party in the Eleventh district perhaps ever known in the party in Kentucky. With both men determined to put it out in the regular election as well as in the primary the situation will become more acute as days go by resulting in an unusual political muddle by the time of the regular election.

In this condition, it is contended will add greatly to the chances of the Democratic nominee.

The fight between Edwards and Powers has extended even beyond the borders of the State, the followers of each of the candidates for the Republican nomination having called on representatives in Congress for aid in the form of literary or the fitness of the two men. One of those called on was Congressman Nicholas Longworth, Representative in Congress from Ohio, and son-in-law of former President Roosevelt. Congressman Longworth was asked to give the record of Edwards in Congress and to state if he was worthy of being returned to Congress by his constituents. In other words, Congressman Longworth was asked to give his opinion on the fitness of the two men—Courier Journal.

Beginning Monday, the work-day schedule in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas shops at Sedalia, Mo., was increased from eight and nine hours to ten hours. About 600 workmen will be affected.

The summer White House at Beverly, Mass., is all ready for the arrival of President Taft and his family on June 23. Col. Roosevelt is scheduled to spend some time at Beverly this summer.

When Col. Roosevelt arrives in New York harbor tomorrow he will receive the most remarkable welcome ever accorded a private citizen in the United States. New York city, not content with pouring out its huge throngs along Broadway and Fifth avenue, will begin the welcome down the bay, while hundreds of steamers, yachts and craft of every description will roar a steamboated salute.

At the close of business June 1, the outstanding warrants against the State of Kentucky amounted to $1,597,120.72. Auditor James says this is the largest amount the State has owed in a number of years. The amounts in the Treasury at the close of business June 1, are as follows: Sinking fund, $2,522,555; school fund, $53,385.83; deficit in the general expense fund, $25,812.63.

It is now the belief of the Italian police that Porter Charlton, husband of Mrs. Charlton, the American woman whose body was found in a trunk in Lake Como, has also been murdered. The lake has been dragged for some trace of his body, and the villa where the Charltons lived has been submitted to a thorough search, but no trace of the missing man can be found. It is said that several persons who said that several persons who said they were found have admitted that they were mistaken.

Two little girls, aged 12 and 14 years, children of a family named Craig, of Winfield, Tenn., were ground to death under a Cincinnati Southern train near Winfield Monday afternoon. They were walking arm in arm along the main track watching a south-bound train. A north-bound train rushed on the children, killing both instantly.

Charles F. Willard, theaviator dropped from an altitude of 150 feet Monday at Springfield, Mo., and almost completely demolished his aeroplane rather than swoop into a crowd of spectators, by which means he might have saved his machine. Willard was badly injured. An accident to his engine caused the trouble.

BUCKWHEATS VERSUS PIE

By BELLE MANIATES

Bertha awaited the coming of her caller without much animation. "He won't come many times," she said to her mother. "The other girls will get to inviting him and they will feed him with layer cakes and pies and ice cream. The boys say it's just like a poorhouse here. We never give them a thing to eat."

"Well, if that's all they come for, I'd be mighty glad to have them stay away. Pie and cake and ice cream is unhealthy stuff and I ain't going to have any in my house. This is no eating house."

Mrs. Willets snapped out this declaration and went upstairs to bed at her usual early hour. She relented enough to caution the two young boys, Richard and Bert, not to go into the sitting room.

"Bertha's going to have a bead," she informed, "and you can sit in the kitchen and study your lessons." They obediently went to the kitchen, but did not study.

"Who's coming to see Bertha?" asked Bert.

"Red Raymond. He's been out west for four years, you know. Been a cowboy and shot Indians."

"Oh, I hope Bertha keeps him for a steady."

"She won't," replied Richard, who had been eavesdropping, "because ma won't let her make any pies and cake and stuff for him to eat."

"Huh!" commented Bert. "Tain't likely he's anything like these farmers around here. He won't care for pie and cake."

"Bertha don't seem to keep a fellow long," lamented Richard. "Ned Price only kept company a month. He says he likes fat girls with red cheeks. Bertha's pale and thin, you know."

"That's not a cowboy's style," remarked Bert, who had taken to drawing books from a circulating library. "They like the delicate kind."

The boys immediately set to work and when things were ready they marched into the sitting room, where Bertha, distraught from her mortification at not being able to offer Red cake and pie, was ill at ease and inattentive. She welcomed the diversion of the entrance of the boys.

"Say," said Bert, "Richard and I got hungry and we are going to have a spread in the kitchen. Don't you folks want to come out?"

"Sure we do," responded Red, promptly, rising from his chair with alacrity and following the boys. Bertha obeyed with some trepidation.

"Oh, Lord!" ejaculated Red when he came into the big, warm kitchen and smelled the coffee. I do believe that's a stack of buckwheats. I used to dream about them when I was down in New Mexico."

Bertha's spirits rose. The boys had set the table nicely. The coffee smelled promising. There were a pitcher of cream and a jug of syrup on the table.

"Sit down," urged Bert. "I'll bake the cakes and Rich will serve you. Pour the coffee, Bertha."

"Say," inquired Richard, as he laid a golden-brown cake on Red's plate "what did you call these? A what of buckwheats?"

"Stack," said Red, pouring about a pint of syrup over the cakes. "That's what they call them out west. When cakes is a stack of whites. Poached eggs on toast is Adam and Eve on a raft."

"Go on, tell more!" applauded Bert waving a pancake turner excitedly in the air.

Red laughed and between cakes he related western tales to the boys' content.

"Is he coming again to-morrow night, Bertha?" whispered Richard from his room as his sister came up stairs at a late hour.

"Yes," she answered, happily. "It was just lovely of you, boys, to think of the cakes. He's going to bring you each a present to-morrow."

"It'll be all right for him," prophesied Bert. "You leave the feeding part to us."

The next night the little brothers again ushered themselves into the sitting room.

"We've got some Adams and Eves on ruffs," grinned Richard.

"Well, you are the best chefs I know," said Red, approvingly. "And you bet you'll get a tip." He handed them each an Indian bow and arrows.

The next night, as sister's beau came up the lane, he was met by Bert. "Say," said the boy, doggedly, "before you come in there's something I want to tell you."

"All right, my boy. Fire away."

"You see there ain't anything to eat to-night and we've run out of coffee and I thought it only fair to tell you before you came in, so you could turn back if you wanted to. But it ain't Bertha's fault. It's ma that's stingy."

Red stared a moment and then burst into a hearty laugh.

"See here, Bert! You didn't think I came to your house to eat, did you? I came because I love your sister."

"Oh, Gee!" said the boy.

"The first time I set eyes on her I said, 'There's the girl for me.' When I called that first night she was so quiet I thought she didn't like me. I was clean discouraged till you boys broke the ice with your stack of buckwheats."

"Does Bertha know?"

"Well, I reckon she does unless she's a mighty poor guesser, but I am going to ask her plumb out to-night and I hope I'll be too happy to eat."

NEWLAND-LYNCH:—Miss Sallie E. Newland, of Louisville and Mr. Eugene R. Lynch, of Lebanon, were quietly married in Louisville at the home of the brides sister, Mrs. L. B. Parsons No. 1508 N. Broadway, at ten o'clock Wed. June 8th, 1910. The Rev. J. R. McAfee performed the ceremony. Miss Myrtle Thompson, of Louisville was brides maid and Mr. L. C. Parmenter, of Lebanon, best man. The bride resides in Louisville but formally of Brodhead Ky. The groom resides in Lebanon and holds a responsible position with the Royer Wheel Co. Mr. and Mrs. Lynch will make Lebanon their future home.

Mrs. Nannie Harp, nee Nannie Carmical, who went to California some two or three months ago, to get a divorce from her husband, J. H. Harp, was a few weeks ago again married to an army officer, who is stationed at some point in Virginia. She stopped here for a few days on her way to join him.

Louis Bullock, aged about 20, was arrested yesterday by Marshal George Ferguson, on two charges, one for taking goods from W. M. Bullocks store and another for robbing the mail. Young Bullocks home is in Knox county, but sometime back he had been staying at Bluford Bullocks, and Bluford Bullock's son, having the contract to carry the mail between Raspberry and Mt. Vernon, had on a few occasions employed Louis Bullock to carry the same for him. E. Dyre & Son, who have a small store near Hansford also have a mail sack, in which their mail is deposited by the mail carrier, and in which they also put all mail to be taken up by the carrier. Ten days or two weeks ago Dyre & Son had mailed a check to the Louisville Grocery Co., for $5 13, which letter was broken open the name of the Louisville Grocery Co., erased from the check and Fred Eaton inserted. The check was on the Bank of Mt. Vernon and was cashed at that bank, by young Bullock or some one who looks very much like him, so says Assistant Cashier A. B. Furnish, who received the check. Bullock denies taking the check.

COLD BLOODED MURDER:—The worst murder ever committed in Rockcastle county occurred at Livingston last Saturday night, when Will Madden, aged 19, a son of Jeff Madden, was shot down without a moments warning and without one semblance of an excuse. Young Madden, in company with three other young men, Sandiing, Baker and Morris had started to Perea, going first to Sinks where they hoped to be able to catch a train, but as few trains stop at sinks, they found it necessary to go into Livingston, arriving there about ten o'clock. Like most boys would do, they were simply standing around the depot waiting for a train going to Berea, and of the long list of witnesses who testified not a single one told of an improper or out of the way move by either of the boys.

Ed and George Mullins, Lon Chuning and Fred Elkin, the four Livingston boys who were charged with the crime were arrested by deputy sheriff Cam Mullins and brought to Mt. Vernon Sunday where they were held until Tuesday when the examining trial was had. The facts however warranted a dismissal of the case so far as Chuning and Elkin were concerned before the trial, so that only two were placed on trial Ed and George Mullins, the warrants against the other boys having been dismissed.

The facts brought out at the examining trial are in brief as follows:

Ed Mullins, who according to his own statements on the witness stand, was drunk on that night, and when he found them standing there at the depot, began striking the boys, which so frightened them that they ran off across the yards toward the oil or tool house. About this time Lon Chuning, Fred Elkin and George Mullins started off up the track toward Sinks, where Chuning is the night operator. In the meaning time Chuning had given to George Mullins, a pistol, which he (Chuning) claims he gave to George to keep Ed Mullins from taking away from him. Soon after leaving the depot, going to Sinks, George Mullins asked Chuning for some cartridges, which Chuning gave him and quickly loading the revolver turned in the direction of where those boys were standing across the yard from the depot, and said "Look out you G—d—Pittsburg s—b—", and fired two shots, one of which took effect in the back of young Madden's head, killing him instantly. Chuning, Mullins and Elkin went on to Sinks, where they were later arrested. In the examining trial which was held before Judge Bethurum Tuesday, George and Ed Mullins were both held over without bail to await the action of the grand jury. Feeling is running high not only in Livingston and Mt. Vernon, but throughout the county, by a justly so, enraged people.

The lecture by Prof. Crossfield

Wednesday evening was one of the most interesting features of the entire program, but on account of the heavy rain, many were kept away. The program as above outlined was carried out to the letter on yesterday, each and every one whose names appeared on program responding promptly, and each session, morning, afternoon and evening was equally interesting. The C. W. B. M. program arranged for to-day, we are sure will be equally interesting as some of the leading C. W. B. M. workers of the State are here to take part.

The S. S. Convention in Mt. Vernon, is pronounced by many who have been attending these conventions for years, to be one of the best and most enjoyable, they have ever attended. Mt. Vernon, which is known far and wide for its hospitality certainly did its part to make the stay, of the sixty some odd delegates, pleasant. To Will H. Fish, the efficient Secretary is due much of the credit for the success and for the splendid manner in which he provided for entertainment comfort and pleasure of the delegates.

Other delegates who arrived later, Miss Lawrence, of Middlesboro, Mrs. Gastinau and Rev. Christian, of Middlesboro, Rev. Bryson and T. G. Moren, London. Rev. L. M. Scott, of Jellico, re-elected President, Will H. Fish, Mt. Vernon, Vice President and Geo. W. Smith, of London, Sec.

The convention will meet at London in June 1911. Before you jump up and abuse the newspaper man for some mistake as you may take it to be, stop and think just a little. Remember that it is a hard matter to please everybody. What may please you may displease others and when you are displeased, others may be pleased.

It is an impossibility to please all. The newspaper man may at times step beyond his limit, but the man does not live who does not do that much. We make mistakes, but when we see the error of our way, try to correct such mistakes.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McFerron, Wednesday afternoon, at their country home near Pine Hill. The contracting parties were Miss Nell McFerron and Mr. J. B. Coleman. Bro. J. A. Sawyer was the officiating clergyman, who tied the nuptial knot pronouncing the ceremony which united the lives of these estimable young people. The wedding was a quiet one witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends. At the appointed hour the young couple took their places in the parlor which was decorated with daisies and ferns, where the minister with impressive ceremony made them husband and wife. After congratulations delightful refreshments were served by Misses Georgia and Rose McFerron sisters of the bride. The bride is one of our choicest young ladies. From a little girl she has grown up in our midst, honored by old and young alike. She has ever been a bright star in the home circle and now she has gone to reign as queen in her own home. The groom is almost a stranger to us, but judging from what the bride is worthy of, he is a good and noble man. The happy couple left on the late train for Denver and other western points, returning about July 1st when they will be at home to their friends at 838 Sixth st. Louisville.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me. I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains. A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

VITAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

Tavener, "Writer and Thinker," Gives Us the Facts as They Really Exist.

(By Tavener)

Staff Washington correspondent of this newspaper, Washington June 14. Indications are that Congress will pass, over the protest of Democrats and Progressives, a railroad regulation bill that will not provide for a physical valuation of railroads.

The millionaire colony of the senate, some of the members of which own stock in railroads, fought desperately to kill every physical valuation amendment proposed.

A physical valuation would expose to the country the extent to which railroad stocks have been watered, and would, therefore, tend to prevent over capitalization in the future and pave the way for reasonable freight and passenger rates. This is why the railroads fear it.

The Interstate Commerce commission, partisan Republican in make-up, has recommended physical valuation year after year. The commission, in its last annual report, somewhat hopelessly, as if realizing the extent to which railroads dominate Congress, says: "The commission has, in previous reports, expressed the opinion that it would be wise for Congress to make provision for a physical valuation of railroad properties, and desires to reaffirm in this report its confidence in the wisdom of such a measure."

Physical valuation was recommended by Roosevelt time and again. This, by the way, is at least one Roosevelt policy that Mr. Taft has deserted cold bloodedly. Taft has raised neither voice nor pen on behalf of physical valuation and it is understood that the idea is antagonistic to his pro railroad temperament.

Yet the Supreme court in the Nebraska rate case, held that "the basis of all calculation as to the reasonableness of rates must be the fair value of the property being used for the convenience of the public."

PRESIDENT'S BILL IS NOT PROGRESSIVE

As progressive legislation, a railroad regulation bill without a provision for physical valuation, is a farce.

The national democratic platform of 1908 declared in vigorous language for "efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads" and to that end strongly recommended the taking of a physical valuation by the Interstate Commerce commission.

But when it is considered that Harriman contributed $260,000 to the republican campaign fund on behalf of the railroads, that probably numerous other railroad magnates advanced equally large sums, and that the very bill Congress is about to place upon the statute books was originally drawn in New York and submitted to the railroad interests before being introduced in Congress, it is not so strange that the physical valuation amendments received their death stabs even after passed by goodly majority in the House of Representatives.

Oh, American people, you must be more vigilant than you are if you would continue to deserve the title of a patriotic people!

WHERE MR. TAFT GETS SUGGESTIONS.

Republican senators who most frequently visit the White House:

Aldrich of Rhode Island, acknowledged congressional representative of Wall street and the tariff trusts.

Lodge of Massachusetts, who declares the ultimate consumer to be a myth.

Depew of New York, chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, and a director of 62 other transportation and franchise corporations.

Senators Stephenson of Wisconsin and Guggenheim of Colorado, who are frequently referred to as having bought their way into the Senate.

And here are the Republican senators with whom the President does not confer: LaFollette of Wisconsin, Clapp of Minnesota, Dolliver and Cummins of Iowa, and Briston of Kansas.

RAINEY WAS RIGHT AFTER ALL

"Attorney General Wickersham former sugar trusts attorney," is quite proper, after all.

When Representative Harry T. Rainey of Illinois made the above reference to Wickersham some time ago the latter professed to have been greatly outraged, and had a letter read on the floor of Congress in which he indignantly denied the accusation.

By cross-examining Representative McKiuley of California, who was praising and defending Wickersham in Congress with information furnished him by the Attorney general, Mr. Rainey has just brought out these admissions: That Wickersham and Henry W. Taft, the President's brother, were formerly members of the law firm of Strong & Cadwallader; that for services rendered the thieving sugar trust "Brother Henry" received $26,750; that this sum was turned over to Strong & Cadwallader; and that Mr. Wickersham drew down and pocketed his share of the fee without indicating any insurgent tendencies.

"Wickersham, former sugar trust attorney," is, therefore a legitimate appellation for the Attorney General of the United States who advises that there be no congressional investigation of the sugar trust because it might give "immunity" to the higher-ups!" Selah!

BALLINGER STILL REVENGEFUL

Secretary of the Interior Ballinger has "indefinitely suspended"

H. T. Jones, special agent of the land office, who was associated with Louis R. Glavis in the investigation of the Alaskan coal claims and who corroborated Glavis' testimony before the Ballinger investigating committee. Jones is the eleventh man Ballinger has forced out.

THIS SENATOR IS SUSPICIOUS.

In the debate on the President's railroad regulation bill, Senator Dolliver of Iowa, Republican said: "The whole atmosphere of our present day legislative life is saturated by the suspicion that even the English language requires watching." What did he mean?

TARIFF REDUCTIONS ASSURE LOWER PRICES.

Whatever may be the principal cause of the increased cost of living, (and the masses believe it is excessive protection,) political economists are practically agreed that the most practical way to lower the cost of living is to reduce the tariff on the necessities of life.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition; hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
